

ANNEX B

Interesting facts about the Formula 1 Singapore Grand Prix

- Held from 18 to 20 September 2020, the 13th edition of the sport's original night race is scheduled to be the 16th round of the 2020 FIA Formula One World Championship™ calendar.
- Ferrari won this year's race with their first 1-2 finish of the season. It was also their first ever 1-2 finish in Singapore.
- Sebastian Vettel scored a record fifth victory in Singapore this year. It was the first race he had won in the 2019 Formula 1 season.
- Kevin Magnussen of Haas set the fastest lap in the 2019 race with a timing of 1:42.301 on lap 58. He also holds the fastest lap record with a timing of 1:41.905 set in 2018.
- There were three Safety Cars during this year's race, maintaining the event's 100% record of Safety Car activations. In total, the Safety Car has appeared 21 times in the past 12 editions of the race.
- Trackside, 388 world-class artiste individuals from 17 countries performed more than 130 hours of entertainment across 10 stages in the Circuit Park over the race weekend this year.
- Headlining the 2019 entertainment line-up were Swedish House Mafia, Muse, Red Hot Chili Peppers, Gwen Stefani, Fatboy Slim, Hans Zimmer, as well as Toots and the Maytals.
- The 2019 event set a record for the second highest attendance in the event's history, drawing 268,000 spectators to the Marina Bay Street Circuit over the three-day action-packed weekend.
- Singapore Airlines has extended its title sponsorship until 2021.
- The historic Anderson Bridge, which is an iconic feature on the Marina Bay Street Circuit, turns 110 years old in 2020.